Teacher plans

Plan	Monthly	Annual	Students	Included
Teacher	$29 / month	$290 / year	30 students	Courses, assignments, per-student analytics, vocabulary insight, AI grammar tutor
Teacher Pro	$49 / month	$490 / year	100 students	Everything in Teacher, plus multi-course analytics, bulk invites, gradebook export, priority support

Prices in USD. Annual billing saves roughly two months. Plans can be upgraded at any time and the difference is prorated.

How seats work

- A seat is one distinct student across all of your courses — a student in three of your courses uses one seat
- Teacher includes 30 students, Teacher Pro includes 100
- Students are never charged and never see ads, on any plan
- Removing a student frees the seat immediately

Larger schools

Above 100 students, or where a department needs several teacher accounts under one agreement, we price per institution rather than per seat. That covers multiple teacher logins, a shared content library, invoicing against a purchase order, and a data-processing agreement where required. Write to support@inputdojo.com with your student count and we will send a quote.

What students get

Learners can also subscribe individually. Nothing below is required to be in your class — a student in a teacher's course studies free.

Plan	Price	Included
Free	$0	Reader, dictionary lookups, exam vocabulary lists
Pro	$7.99 / mo · $79 / yr	Spaced-repetition review, unlimited imports, progress tracking
Ultimate	$14.99 / mo · $149 / yr	AI tutor, conversation practice, targeted lesson generation

Curriculum included in the price

A teacher plan is not an empty tool. It comes with 156 ready-made, illustrated Japanese lessons across 7 tracks, plus the exam syllabuses for every supported language — nothing to buy per class, per level or per student.

Track	Level	Lessons	Study time	What it covers
Japanese Foundations	Absolute beginner	16	≈3 h	Short story lessons that take you from your first two signs to reading a whole scene.
Kana Sprints	Optional side path	12	≈1 h	Quick sprints through hiragana and katakana, taken whenever the script slows a learner down.
Japanese N5	Beginner (JLPT N5)	24	≈6 h	The full N5 story arc: everyday verbs, places, comparisons, requests and plans.
Japanese N4	Upper beginner (JLPT N4)	24	≈5 h	The season after Open Day: favours, conditions, guesses, and being the one people rely on.
Kanji Units	Beginner (JLPT N5)	28	≈4 h	The N5 characters, taught through words learners already say — and the radicals that hold them together.
Vocabulary Sprints	Optional side path	40	≈7 h	The words the story lessons have no room for: twenty at a time, grouped by where they are used.
Grammar Labs	Optional side path	12	≈2 h	Short drill labs on verb and adjective forms, for when a pattern needs a second pass.

- JLPT N5-N1, HSK 1-9, CEFR A1-C2 — vocabulary, character and grammar lists with per-student coverage
- Your own syllabus — build courses and units from your textbook, scanned handouts or your own text
- Anki-compatible decks — export any class word list for students who study elsewhere

Procurement questions we get asked

Do students need to install anything?

No. InputDojo runs in any modern browser and installs as a progressive web app on phones. No app store account and no IT approval are required.

Who owns student data?

The school and the student. Data is never sold and never used to train models. Students can export their vocabulary at any time, and accounts can be deleted on request.

Do we have to build our own course content?

Not for Japanese — 156 illustrated lessons are included and can be assigned as they are. For every other language you assign imported material or your own textbook pages.

Can parents see progress without an account?

Yes. A guardian report is a shareable link scoped to one student; it shows lessons completed, words learned and active days, and nothing about anyone else in the class.

Can we get the data out if we stop?

Yes. Gradebook, per-student progress and class vocabulary export as CSV at any time, and the student word lists export as Anki decks.

Can we pay by invoice?

Yes for institutional agreements — email support@inputdojo.com. Individual teacher plans are card-based.

Can we trial it with one class first?

That is the recommended route. The 14-day trial covers the full classroom feature set; the pilot guide in this pack lays out a four-week structure.

Privacy, security and support

✓ Student data is never sold

No advertising, no data brokers, and no student content used to train third-party models.

✓ Export and deletion on request

Teachers export the gradebook and vocabulary as CSV; a student account and its data can be deleted on request.

✓ Works on the devices you already have

Any modern browser, plus an installable phone app — no app-store account, no software for IT to approve.

✓ GDPR-aligned by design

Data-processing agreement available on request, EU/US hosting, encryption in transit and at rest.

✓ Teacher-controlled enrollment

Students join through your invite link only. No public profiles, no messaging between strangers, no in-app purchases for students.

✓ Support from the people who build it

Email support answered directly by the development team, normally within one business day.

Need paperwork before you can buy?

We routinely provide a data-processing agreement, a completed security questionnaire, a W-9 or VAT-compliant invoice and a named support contact. Email support@inputdojo.com with what your procurement process needs and we will turn it around in a few working days.
